BOY SCOUT OFFICIALS

The following Southern Albertans were named to the Provincial Scout Council at the recent meeting in Calgary: I. R. Proctor, Stirling; E. J. Wood, L. Gilchrist, N. E. Tanner, Cardston; C. Matkin, Magrath; Senator W. A. Buchanan, Mayor R. Barrowman and A. G. Baalim, Lethbridge; C. R. Wing, R. Redd, Raymond; H. O. Westrup, Hillcrest; H. T. Halliwell, Coleman.

The following district commissioners were listed: E. J. Fawns, Raymond; Dr. C. M. Fletcher, Lethbridge; J. W. Gresham, Blairmore; J. R. Payne, Cardston.

Mr. LePage, representing the Ford Motor Company, was in town yesterday from Calgary, arranging with the local dealers, the Red Trail Motors, for a display in the near future of some of the latest car and truck models.

BONSPIEL CONCLUDED

Seems the big bonspiel could not conclude without the names of such ardent enthusiasts as Harvey Carmichael and Sam Moores being called upon to put on the finishing touches. These two rinks played the final on Sunday evening, Carmichael winning the much-coveted West Canadian trophy by the narrow margin of one point.

Fernie succeeded in carrying off four cups, being awarded to the following rinks, Herchmer, the Trites-Wood and Grand Challenge, defeating McLeod in the final for the Trites-Wood, and Rhynas in the final for the Grand Challenge, also the Grand Aggregate; E. K. Stewart, the International Cup in a hard battle with Beck Sanborn. Allison, of Pincher Creek, won the Lethbridge Cup.

Sixteen rinks were listed in the contest, as follows: Kerr, Evans, Carmichael, Stewart, Herchmer, Rinaldi, Morgan, Boulton, McLeod, Rhynas, Allison, McBurney, Moores, Sanborn, Bell and Greenway.

ART EXHIBIT AT COLEMAN

The Carnegie art collection, which is being shown in various Alberta towns and cities under the direction of Dr. W. G. Carpenter, of the Calgary Institute of Technology and Art, will be exhibited in Coleman tomorrow and Saturday. About 100 pictures are included, occupying 1200 square feet. Principal Hoyle has arranged the local details.

The itinerary of the exhibit includes Banff, Blindfold, Brooks, Calgary, Canmore, High River, Hillcrest, Mines, Lethbridge, Macleod, Magrath, Medicine Hat, Strathmore, Taber and Coleman.

WALTER WINCHELL STORY - MUSICAL WITH STAR CAST

Walter Winchell, Broadway columnist whose today's gossip is tomorrow's scandal, is author of the story of "Broadway Thru a Keyhole," the United Artists release produced by 20th Century and featuring Constance Cummings, Russ Columbo, Paul Kelly, Blossom Seeley, Abe Lyman and his band, Gregory Raffo, Texas Guinan, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Frances Williams at Cole's theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

"Broadway Thru a Keyhole" has a background of night clubs and shows how a sweet and innocent young girl rises to fame, was befriended by a handsome young racketeer and finally became the wife of a famous radio crooner.

Because of the night club background of the yarn, the picture was filmed as a musical with a large dancing chorus and such musical comedy and vaudeville stars as Frances Williams, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Barto and Mann doing their dancing and singing stuff. Other famous Broadway personalities are Blossom Seeley, Texas Guinan and Abe Lyman and his band.

Constance Cummings, Russ Columbo and Paul Kelly play the three leading roles. Others in the cast are Gregory Raffo, Hugh O'Connell, Hobart Cavanaugh, C. Henry Gordon and Helen Jerome Eddy. Lowell Sherman directed from the script by Gene Towne and Graham Baker. Jack Haskell directed the dance numbers and Mack Gordon and Harry Revel wrote the music. It is presented by Joseph M. Schenck and Darryl F. Zanuck.

Hartley Upham, who had the misfortune at Christmas time to break an arm, says that the limb is progressing favorably. He is now taking daily training with the perambulator and the punching bag and is becoming so proficient that he anticipates a punch at Schmeling or Carner before feeling that he is again a fit and proper person to wield the razor.

AN OLD TIMER CROSSES OVER

A real old-timer of the Crow's Nest Pass, crossed the Great Divide at Fernie on Tuesday of last week, in the person of Spencer Lyon, a resident of The Pass for around thirty-four years.

Mr. Lyon was born in Brookville, Ontario, seventy-eight years ago, coming to the west in 1880. He was a printer by trade, and at one time worked on the Chicago Inland Printer. He had served in the West with different papers, particularly at Fernie and Blairmore, working with The Enterprise off and on during the years 1909, 1910 and 1911.

He had been ill for a considerable time, and a patient of the Fernie hospital for some time past. He leaves two sisters to mourn his loss, Mrs. R. Picken, of Brookville, Ontario, and Mrs. F. Hunter, of Walkerville, Ont.; and one son, residing at Los Angeles, California.

Interment took place in St. Margaret's cemetery at Fernie on Friday.

B. C. WOMAN GETS

OTTAWA POST

Roseland, B.C., Jan. 17.—Mrs. Phyllis Gregory Turner left here on Monday for Ottawa, where she will assume a post under the new tariff board.

In discussions as to the future work of the board, the need of an economist was recognized. The name of Mrs. Gregory Turner was placed before Mr. Justice Sedgewick, chairman of the board. Her qualifications are such that few women in Canada can equal.

In 1925, she obtained from the University of British Columbia a scholarship in economics at Bryn Mawr college, and was given a European fellowship of $1500 from that college for research work abroad, and at the same time $1500 fellowship offered by the Canadian Fellowship of Canadian Women.

She sailed for England in August, 1927, spent a year in research and hearing lectures at the London School of Economics. She attended seminars given by Professor Noel Baker, M.P., on International Relations, and by Professor R. H. Tawney on Economic History. She carried on at the same time special research at the British Museum and other libraries on the subject of Ph.D. thesis, "Some Communist 'Sects' in Canada," and spent some time at the University of Marburg in Germany. She returned to Bryn Mawr in 1928, and completed examinations for degree of doctor of philosophy.

Mrs. Turner's accomplishment at the University of British Columbia and Bryn Mawr college for women in Pennsylvania were so outstanding as to win for her an invitation to join the Wickersham Crime Commission. This she declined, in order to participate in the privileges of two other scholarships she had won.

[It is of considerable local interest to note that Mrs. Gregory Turner is a niece of the late Miss Mary Gregory, for a number of years housekeeper at the Cosmopolitan hotel here.]

Years ago, bull meat was peddled extensively to lumber camps throughout the Crow's Nest Pass. Now, Henry Schoning, a native of Denmark, but a resident of the Elk Valley, is quite positive not enough bull has been peddled, to satisfy him, at least. Schoning was recently set upon by one of these creatures, and after being rolled and junted along for quite a distance, received a final punch as his form stopped rolling against a fence. The animal then backed away, quite satisfied his duty had been done. Schoning's cries were heard by someone a distance away. He was picked up and removed to the Fernie hospital, where he is reported resting fairly well, with a good chance of recovery.

May Overcome Obstacle

New 'Plane Designed To Deal With "Hard" Air

The design of an aeroplane to fly 544 miles an hour, close to the speed of sound, 122 miles over the world's record and using existing engines has been made public.

The design deals with air which gets "hard" under the compression of great speed. Present-day planes are said to stand already at the threshold of this obstacle to super-speeds.

The new model comes from high aeronautical authority. The author is John Stack, engineer at Langley Field, Virginia, for the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

This hypothetical "plane" meets hardened air by slight refinements in streamlining and cleaning its surface of even small projections. In shape it differs only slightly from the transport planes now used on transcontinental airways. It is a mid-wing, cantilever monoplane.

Marvels of the Human Eye
By F. M. CROWE, Optometrist-Optician, Calgary

NO. 6—ASTIGMATISM

We now come to a very common defect of the eye, one little understood by the public many of whom consider it a visible inflammatory condition or disease or that it is a temporary ailment, which is not so.

The simplest explanation of Astigmatism would be to describe it as an eyeball in which one or both refractive surfaces (Lens and Cornea) are not symmetrically curved. Try and visualize a perfectly round ball of glass from which you cut a slice. Now the Cornea of the eye should be as equally curved in all meridians as that slice of glass and when it is not, the condition is known as Astigmatism. It is usually congenital but may be acquired by a blow or result from a scar after an ulcer has healed. It is also considered probable that many cases of Astigmatism have resulted from undue pressure on the eyeball in infancy by the parent washing the child's eyes, also by the child rubbing their eyes in the horizontal direction in their "crying" years as it is usually in the horizontal direction that Astigmatism exists. An unsymmetrical (not uniformly curved) Lens is also possible, the muscles forcing it to assume a shape which will, as near as possible, offset or neutralize the malformed Cornea, in the interests of good vision.

We have seen that rays of light from any object, to be seen clearly and comfortably, must focus on the Retina and to do so must pass through symmetrically curved surfaces which you see is impossible where Astigmatism exists because the focus is a blurred line instead of a sharp point. The poor vision which would result from Astigmatism of moderate amount is often overcome by the above action of the Lens. The third motor nerve sends power to the Ciliary muscle (which controls the action of the Lens) and the Lens is forced into an unnatural shape in the effort to obtain a clear brain image. But imagine, if you can, the excessive amount of nerve used up by such eyes for say sixteen hours daily year after year. Is it any wonder such people eventually break down under the strain.

Some symptoms of Astigmatism are: headaches, nervousness, irritability, loss of "pep", tilting of the head to see better, nausea, indigestion, chronic constipation and even St. Vitus' Dances. Different individuals are differently affected. The symptoms occurring in an individual depend upon the age, temperament, physique and occupation. Strange as it may seem the discomfort experienced as a result of Astigmatism is not at all proportion to the amount of error. In fact it usually bears the reverse ratio as we find the better the vision the greater the eye strain where a small amount of error exists. It is estimated that normal eyes use about thirty-five per cent of the nerve energy of a normal body. How much is used by eyes that of this general type but they lived differently under such circumstances? You answer.

We have no more reason to expect the eyes to be perfect than the features or any other organ. Neither are they so and few eyes are without some degree of Astigmatism. A small amount can be tolerated by many without discomfort, especially in outdoor occupations, but the presence of "excessive" close work study, reading for pleasure, strong electric light, moving pictures and "glare" from almost everything we look at, all tend to manifest the defects of the human eye. It is doubtful if our forefathers' eyes were any better or worse than those of this generation but they lived differently, ate differently, retired earlier, had plenty of soothing green grass and tried to meet their gaze instead of the reflections from city pavements and roads, auto radiators, store windows, etc. What artificial light they used was coal oil or gas, not electricity which is charged with rays harmful to the eyes.

Am I advocating a return to the old condition of things? By no means. I am merely pointing out that "eye-conscience" and many ailments remote from, yet due to eye conditions, is part of the price we are paying for advancing civilization. It has taken quite a time for me to tell you the worst. Now comes much better news. Science has again come to our aid in the form of instruments which, in the hands of a skillful optometrist, measures the amount and kind of Astigmatism and other eye defects—also machinery for grinding spectacles which neutralizes the effects of the abnormal conditions with resultant normal vision, normal amount of nerve energy used for the eyes leaving the other organs with their proper share. The unpleasant eye and bodily symptoms disappear, work is more efficient and life is enjoyed instead of tolerated.

Entry For Good Book

Act Of Manitoba Physician Would Go On Credit Side

If somewhere in some other better world a recording angel jots down our good and bad deeds, there must have been an entry on our credit side in a recent week. It was the story, told in a Winnipeg dispatch, of a physician for the Department of Indian Affairs traveling 100 miles of wind-swept country in his ski-equipped snowmobile, carrying with him toxoid for fifty Indian children in a northern Indian settlement.

And such tales are not uncommon. We hear much about the decadence of this age, about its ruthless materialism, and what not. Yet the truth is that there has never been a period in the world's history with as much of real humanity, with as much of the spirit of compassion and pity and kindness.—Ottawa Journal.

Graduates Have Done "Nothing To Deserve The Insult"

"How much longer are we undergraduates to bear the blame for the Oxford accent?" asks an editorial in the Iain, the Oxford university undergraduate magazine.

"We have done nothing to deserve the insult," the editorial adds. "Our speech may be careless and probably ungrammatical but it is not tainted with the so-called Oxford accent. Let the purist call it the Park Lane drawl, the Bahama lilt or any name except that of Oxford."

Would Catch Sea Serpent

Deep-Sea Fisherman Submits Plan To Victoria People

George P. Wilson, experienced deep-sea fisherman of San Diego, Calif., has proposed a method of catching cadorosaurus, hero of many Victoria sea serpent stories.

Wilson advises use of raw meat or a large fish as bait. He suggests a barbed hook at least a foot long and six inches wide attached to 50 feet of half-inch steel cable, then 50 yards of one-inch manila rope. The rope would be attached to a 50-gallon watertight oil drum and another 50 yards of manila rope would lead to a second drum. The entire "line" would be towed from a motorboat.

"Once caught," said Wilson, "Caddy would find his progress handicapped by two heavy drums if he had designs on the boat. If he dived and had sufficient strength to drag the barrels under, they would soon force him to the surface. In time, he would become exhausted and his captors could easily tow him ashore."

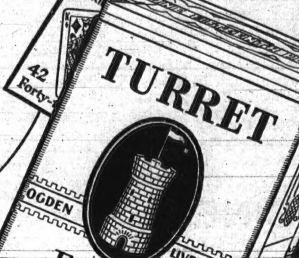

It is estimated that if all the ice of Greenland and Antarctica should melt, enough water would be added to the oceans to raise their level 150 feet. This would drown out most of the world's great seaports.

In the first eight months of this year 20,000,000 tons of shipping passed through the Suez Canal, a large increase over the same period of 1932.

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God." Matthew 5:8.
Lesson: Matthew 5:1-48.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

Receipts for Blessings, verses 3-10. "Blessed"—with this word Jesus begins each of the "Beatitudes," as we call these verses, from Beat. Blessed, the word with which they begin in the Latin version. Blessed means something more than happy; it implies a deeper, holier joy. Happiness may seem to depend upon circumstances, upon what one has or does; blessedness always depends upon relationship to God, upon what one is. "Blessedness," writes B. C. Carlin, "is toward and abiding; outward prosperity cannot give it, nor can adversity take it away. It is like the depths of the ocean: the surface is changeable, sometimes calm and waveless, sometimes tossed higher and thicker by the restless winds; while deep below there is ever the same changeless rest, silence and peace."

And who are blessed? The poor in spirit, said Jesus. "Poor in spirit" is not a sense poor-spirited; rather it is the truest humility. The poor in spirit are the humble-minded, who are conscious of their need of God. "The gospel has never had any power with people who want nothing better than what they have, or with those who, being greatly in need—as indeed we all are—have never known it. The gospel comes into the world, so the Beatitudes teach us, not through the door of pride, but the door of humility; not down the road of satisfaction, but the road of longing." (Gaius Glenn Atkins.)

"The life that needs nothing, or thinks that it needs nothing, does not reach upward, and soon drops its connection, with the Giver of all good."

Bridge Advice Costly

The Dayton News says an argument took place in a women's bridge game—as they often do. A technical question of cutting the cards was referred by two disputants to a New York bridge authority by telegram. The answer came quickly. Next day came a bill from the expert for $30. The women took it to a lawyer. He charged them $5 for his advice. Total cost, $35.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the gaiety, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Avis is stunned and Camilla's mother likewise.

(Now Go On With The Story.)

CHAPTER XXVII

Camilla's unshaken faith in Peter and her quiet resignation to any opinion or ultimatum, had mollified Mrs. Hoyt, somewhat. She did not disown her as a daughter or command her to leave the Hoyt household, but Camilla decided for herself that it would be the wiser course. She consulted with Rose about renting a small apartment at once.

"I have enough to live on for a few weeks, and I'll surely find work soon," she explained. She had met Rose downtown for the lunch hour and they were facing each other across a little ornate-topped table in a tearoom, when she told Rose about her marriage to Peter.

"So you're married?" Rose had reproached her. "That's no way to go into business—no marriage, either. You don't know what you are or what you want. Get it, I had your chance to be somebody—talent like you've got and a swell education—I wouldn't look at a man."

"As soon as I get work, Rose, I'll help you to go to night school for that secretarial course," Camilla promised generously.

"That's what I want, all right. And you won't see me hitching up to drag a truck after me, just when I get in form, either. Single harness for me and a light, fancy load behind that is mostly myself."

"You will forget all those resolutions if you ever fall in love, Rose," Camilla smiled kindly, with her own wisdom.

Rose waved the suggestion aside with a flourish of her fork. "I don't believe in that kind of love anymore than I believe there's a Santa Claus. But say, why do you want to live with me, now? Why don't you go and live with your husband, now that the secret is out?"

"Whether or not it's a secret, has nothing to do with that, Peter and I agreed to live apart until he is able to take care of me. That may be for a long time yet."

"That's goofy, I'll say. Why wouldn't it be better for you to shuffle your incomes and go fifty-fifty? Plenty of couples do that and manage to get along."

"And plenty of them don't. No, Rose, when a girl gives her best to her work for a salary and tries to keep house, she has to let down on one of them. Naturally, it's the housekeeping. As a wife, she fails; or at least, home becomes so unpleasant that the man and woman get to thinking it is each other they hate. No, until Peter can take care of me, what he sees of me will be my best. We shall only be together for pleasure, just as if we were lovers. That way, we always shall be lovers, and our happiness will be saved for the future."

"Oh, I see," laughed Rose, "you prefer being an occasional wife—something like those occasional chairs and tables they advertise to have around the house for extra use. They're there, ready to be used whenever they're needed. Handy that way, all right."

For an instant, Camilla resented her sister's comparison, then she laughed aloud. "Put it that way if you wish I'll add to the metaphor. The occasional chair is not used so much as the old armchair and it stays near the living and is treated with more respect. It is the guest chair. That is what I shall be to Peter—his guest-wife."

"Well, it's all right to be a guest and sit in a bright new occasional chair for an evening, but you sure to get sore sitting and to be squeezed down in the old armchair that knows every crook and turn of your disposition, even if it is worn to threads on the arms where yours have rested when you're tired."

Camilla was delighted with Rose's sudden burst of droll philosophy. How wise she was, in spite of her limited education and training. She would make a shrewd business woman without a doubt, and Camilla resolved that she would sacrifice if necessary, to assure her more training for the position of which she was capable.

"Peter isn't going to be much concerned with comfy armchairs or wines, either, for awhile," she continued. "Right now, he is so busy that he scarcely knows he has a wife. And that's what I'll have to do, to get work. I'm a little stony hard, and perhaps just take any kind of work to get started. Happen to know of anything at all I could do?"

"Oh, I think if I weren't the only clerk at Dawson's, I'd be afraid of my own job. Wherever two people are working at the same thing, there's a possibility of elimination these days. You should be glad you have it easy, and forget about hunting for a job that some other girl

"There's nothing fair about that idea. Anyone who has enough ambition and ability to work, has a right to. And I want to leave the Hoyts right away. I want to start being independent, and I'll promise not to be a burden to you. Can't we look out for each other?" Rose said lower now, and I've been noticing the food prices. It won't cost you any more than living at home and you've been wanting to leave. Ed and Henry can take care of the rest all right, and you know Ma told you to do as you please."

"Oh, sure, I do want to get away, and live more like you do, Camilla. I was only thinking about you. I'm afraid you won't like it, after being used to having everything so grand."

"You just imagine it's grand, honey. You wouldn't think so if you could track places."

"Well, I wish I could for awhile—that's all. I wouldn't be looking for trouble as you do. All right, then, I'll be seen' you on Saturday. If you have time, you might look around. If you see anything you like, I'll be okay. You know—your wish with nothing and me with eighteen a week, she shrugged."

Peter looked up from his work to discover Gus Matson standing in the as well as to do what we can afford doorway, grinning broadly. "Oh, hello!" he exclaimed. "Come in."

Gus counted out the room. "Quite a surprise to see me?"

"Yeah. Where have you been all summer?"

"Oh, around. Didn't think you wanted to see me," he dropped into a chair and glanced up surreptitiously.

"That's all over," Peter dismissed the past. "Sorry you made a fool of yourself."

"Hasn't a fellow a right to make love to a girl if he wants to?"

"Sure. But that's not what I mean, and you know it."

"Oh, well, all's fair in—"
"That was neither," Peter interrupted him sternly.

"Oh, yeah? Gonna start bossin' me again?"

"I should say not. I wouldn't consider the job again. Is that what you came here for, to offer me a chance to be your guardian again?"

"No—and yes. Fact is, I'm up against it, and I wondered if you could help me a little, Peter, you always were a good scout. I have some work promised after next month, but I gotta eat until then."

"While you finish your place for the exhibit? It's the same with me."

"Exhibit? Who said I was working for the exhibit?"

"Aren't you?" surprised.

"No. Are you?"

"Why, yeah—thought you 'ad the same model."

"Say, d'you suppose I'm crazy enough to think I have a chance to win anything you enter?"

"I don't know, my dear. Besides, it brings your work to the attention of the right people. That's the reason I'm entering. I'd like to win, of course, but I don't expect to."

Marks Anniversary

Three Phases Of History Recalled By Famous War Unit

Three phases of the history of the Canadian fighting unit were recalled at Beatty St. Drill Hall, Vancouver, when the British Columbia regiment celebrated its fiftieth anniversary.

Young men who now form the unit which glories in the name of Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles gave a lively display of their military and physical training and were reminded of the splendid traditions of the regiment by groups which represented the sixteenth Regiment of forty years ago, the famous fighting Seventh Battalion of Great War days and their fellows who carry on today.

An officer, an N.C.O. and a private of each of these phases in the unit's history were uniformed in the dress of their respective periods.

New Type Of Kitchen

One Feature Is Cupboard That Becomes Dining Table

The American furniture industry opened its 20th annual show in Chicago with, everything, from bird cages to washing machines on display in the spacious Furniture Mart on Lake Shore drive.

Buyers will find the 1934 kitchen, a distinct innovation. Besides the stove, cupboard and other appliances this kitchen has a "planning desk" where the housewife becomes the home executive.

Another novelty is the five-shelf cupboard that becomes a dining room table without even disturbing the dishes on the shelves.

Whitling said he expected the show to mark a revival in the industry.

Jack—Can you sew, cook and keep house?

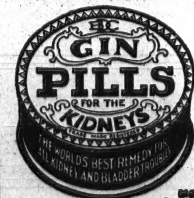

Alice—Yes, indeed.

Jack—Well, if the worst comes to the worst you oughtn't to have any trouble in getting a job.

Unusual Situation In China

Women Gain Prominence And Are Crowding Men Out

Women, from sing-song girls to university professors, are so much in the news in China that they are crowding the men out of the picture. The Chinese, long accustomed to keeping their women behind the orchid door, now find them very much in the open. At dinner parties, balls, theatricals, sports events and all public and social functions Chinese women are very much in evidence.

General Han Pu-chu, Governor of Shantung, who is a militarist of the old school, is a convert. On a recent visit to Peking he complained bitterly because officials here spent so much time in the company of women. But on his last inspection tour of his own province he was accompanied by two women propagandists. In all the cities and towns he visited he turned the women loose to tell their sisters to bob their hair and quit binding their feet.

The increasing prominence of women in the news has revived the ancient Chinese legend of a land inhabited entirely by women. Research indicates that the land referred to in the tale was meant to be the Kurile Islands. The yarn has it that in the old days the Kuriles were inhabited by fisherwomen who knew nothing about men.

ENCOUNTER

It happened, after many years, they met;

Upon them both Time's hand had met;

About her eyes were shadows faintly set.

His mouth was grim, his smile was cold and strange.

Above them towered the city street's high walls.

A bad-dry for the stage whereon they stood.

And all around rose shrill, ear-piercing calls.

Yet none more harsh than their rebellious mood.

An instant thus two strangers stood and gazed.

And, each for hand, a thousand miles apart,

Then sudden fire within their spirits blazed.

And fused them once again, loved heart to heart!

So it will ever be between these two, Though next they meet on some sphere far and new.

Latest Noxious Weed

Ways Sought To Prevent Distribution Of Hoary Peppergrass

The Dominion Seed Branch announced the latest noxious weed seed to appear in Canada, namely, the hoary peppergrass, and in co-operation with provincial Departments of Agriculture in pursuing investigations as to its source and the prevention of its attaining widespread distribution. The seed of this peppergrass was discovered last winter by the Dominion Seed Branch Laboratory at Toronto in one of two samples of Ontario-grown clover seed. It is not new to North America, as it is distributed from coast to coast in the United States. It is also prevalent in New Zealand. The plant is perennial with cord-like root stalks which make it very difficult to eradicate.

Casual observers might confuse it with field peppergrass which is fairly common in some of the clover growing areas in Western Ontario, but peppergrass is biennial and therefore much less objectionable. The seeds of the two are much alike.

Chooses Orchid As Symbol

Henry Pu-Yi, who soon will be crowned as the emperor of Manchukuo, has adopted the orchid as the imperial symbol of the new monarchy. The orchid will be in contrast to the chrysanthemum, the symbol of the emperor of Japan. The new throne chair and other articles of the Manchukuo imperial household will be emblazoned with orchids.

Man's Short Memory

Present Generation Quickly Forgetting Horrors Of Great War

"The horrors of the Great War," General E. J. Higgins, international leader of the Salvation Army, observes in the London Daily News of recent issue, "are receding from the mind of the present generation, and unless it is possible to create a will to peace based upon moral and spiritual convictions of the peoples of the world, passions will be as readily aroused tomorrow as in 1914, and we shall find ourselves launched upon a 'next war' that will be absolutely catastrophic—indeed the grave of civilization."

If you think General Higgins' analysis is wrong you need not ask any boy or girl under twenty to give his or her impressions of the Great War. Quite likely you, whose recollection of the "war to end war" is so keen will be the realist. Despite history books, even the realism of moving pictures, a glamour of romance seems to be increasing in the picture of war carried by young minds. Perhaps, as a cynic once remarked, man is the animal that has no memory.—Rotarian Magazine.

Canadian Potatoes In Cyprus

Trill Shipments Produced Greater Yield Than Local Seed

Two years ago a trial shipment of Canadian seed potatoes made to the Island of Cyprus in the Mediterranean through the Dominion Department of Agriculture of Ottawa. The seed, shipped from Charlottetown, P.E.I., consisted of three varieties, namely, Glen Mountain, Bliss Triumph, and Irish Cobbler. The yields obtained were considerably greater than those from local seed. The best results were obtained with Glen Mountain, and the Cyprus farmers were impressed with the regular germination and growth of the Canadian potatoes.

Little Helps For This Week

I pray not that Thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that Thou shouldst keep them from the evil.—John 17:15.

In busy mart and crowded street, No less than in the still retreat, Thou Lord art near our souls to bless.

With all a Father's tenderness, Only the individual conscience, and He who is greater than the conscience, can tell where worldliness prevails. Each heart must answer for itself, and at its own risk. That our souls are committed to our own keeping, at our own peril in a world so mixed as this, is the last reason we should slumber over the charge or betray the trust. If only that outlet to the Infinite be kept open, the inner bond with eternal life preserved, while not one movement of this world's business is interfered with nor one beat of its happiness repressed, with all natural associations dear and cherished, with all human sympathies dear and warm, we shall yet be near the kingdom of heaven. In the world, but not of it, not taken out of it but kept from its evil.—J. H. Toom.

is your duty to attend the annual meeting next Monday night, January 29th. Some are not aware that we can have five trustees on our board this year. We are entitled to five; their terms are two years, not three as formerly. There is one trustee going out, and it is up to the ratepayers to pass for two more, which explains why one trustee is mentioned on the notices that are out.

It was passed at Edmonton in 1933 that any school with over eight rooms could have five trustees, two-year terms instead of three. This is how I read it from the Calgary He-

We also asked, but I'm not sure whether it was agreed, to have our next annual meeting in some place other than the schoolhouse, the desks not being convenient for such purpose, and no chairs available, men having to sit on their haunches on the floor, which is very tiresome and inconvenient. You cannot take the same interest in what is going on as if comfortable. Why, then, has our trustees been so careless and thoughtless for us? Waken up, ratepayers! Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor.

NO PROVINCE WILL DEFAULT ON PAYMENTS

Ottawa.—While every avenue offering a hope for rehabilitation of provincial finances so that they may become independent of federal aid, is being explored, the consensus of the Dominion-provincial conference, is that no province will be allowed to default. This was learned authoritatively.

Delegates labored long taking up the joint suggestion of Alberta and Saskatchewan for short term agricultural credits, and Saskatchewan's suggestion for enlargement of the assisted land settlement scheme.

Greater colonization efforts were forecast by some of the delegates after the discussion.

Land settlement as method of unemployment relief has proven highly satisfactory in the opinion of representatives of all the provinces of Canada attending the conference.

Less than 10 per cent of the unemployed families settled on land throughout Canada under the various "back-to-the-land" schemes, have met with failure, it was reported.

Some conference highlights: Suggestion from British Columbia that the Canadian National Railways absorb the Pacific Great Eastern.

Another request from British Columbia for an economic commission to inquire into the treatment accorded that province as compared with others, was also turned down.

Unemployment and financial problems discussed by committee under chairmanship of Hon. J. E. Brownie, premier of Alberta.

Suggestion that a commission be appointed to study reallocation of taxation fields given consideration.

Agreement reached to appoint a sub-committee of the Dominion cabinet to look into the Duncan report on maritime claims and ascertain if it may be fully implemented.

Proposed marketing board discussed it was intimated that legislation bearing on this might be introduced at the forthcoming session.

The west would welcome the appointment of a commission to examine into economic and financial condition in the prairie provinces, it was learned from several western delegates.

The commission the westerners had in mind would be one similar to the Duncan commission which conducted a survey into conditions in the maritime provinces.

"In view of the much anticipated criticism in the east about the west and its position, economic and financial, the appointment of a commission would be welcomed," a prominent western delegate stated.

Finds Old Base

Commander Byrd Surveys Old Camp In Antarctic Wastes

Little America, Antarctica.—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd returned to his "home" in these frozen wastes with members of his second Antarctic expedition and found that "it's all there."

After a three-months' cruise from Boston and an absence of about four years, the commander and his men happily surveyed the old base and at once prepared to dig in again, preliminary to further explorations.

"It's all there," Admiral Byrd shouted when a leading party found the three 60-foot wireless towers of the camp intact and the buildings covered with snow.

The flagship lay within the glittering barrier walls of the Bay of Whales.

Would Not Change Matters

Washington.—Replying to a speech by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat from Illinois, that the Lawrence treaty would give Great Britain a "military avenue through the United States," Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, told the United States senate, Britain and Canada have every navigation right on the Great Lakes now that they would have under the new pact.

Endorse World Peace

Edmonton.—Endorsing every action assuring world peace, the United Farm Women of Alberta convention here elected Hon. Arthur Henderson, chairman of the disarmament conference at Geneva, commending him for his work and urging continuation of all endeavors to prevent war.

Trappers Are On Rations

Winter Trails To North Impossible And Supplies Are Delayed

Prince Albert, Sask.—Northern trappers and traders are on rations as overland freighting, halted by unprecedented difficulties of travel, are a month and a half late in arriving at Lac La Ronge and other trading centres.

Heavy falls of snow which came before frosts had provided a solid covering for northern muskegs have rendered heavily travelled winter trails impassable. Horses, floundering about in the slush, and drivers and helpers, wet to their waists have battled through only to the north end of Montreal lake, slightly more than half the distance to the principal northern port.

Fresh frosts hardened the broken trail, but there still remains 70 miles, mostly over muskegs, to be broken.

Flour and sugar are becoming a rarity in northern camps and trading posts were out of many of the staple commodities until aeroplane, pressed into service in emergency, have commenced to bring relief.

Earthquake Takes Heavy Toll

Report From India States 2,000 Killed In Disaster

Calcutta.—Reports of damage and loss of life far beyond original estimates flowed into Calcutta from all parts of India, shortly after violent earthquakes on January 15. These unconfirmed reports indicated an estimate of 2,000 dead would not be excessive.

Known dead stood at 1,122 as officials awaited further word from stricken areas, particularly Muzaffarpur, Jamalpur, Patna, Benaras and Bankura.

Hundreds were reported killed in Muzaffarpur. Despatches said the streets were littered with corpses.

Relief was being speeded to cities which suffered most heavily from the quakes. Tents and provisions were despatched to Jamalpur where 33 were killed and 130 buildings destroyed. The populace in the Patna district, fearing further shocks, was living in the open. In that region 56 were killed. Mild shocks continued but were nothing in comparison to the first one which rocked all India.

Anticipate Change In Dollar

Parliament May Be Asked To Reduce Gold Content

Toronto.—The Toronto Globe in a special despatch from its Ottawa correspondent said parliament will be asked, according to belief in cabinet circles, to reduce the gold content of the Canadian dollar.

The Globe said: "The adoption by statute of such a lower gold content for the Canadian dollar would, undoubtedly, have widespread reaction. It would in due time reduce by one-third the burden of all indebtedness payable in Canadian currency, and would tend to increase prices of commodities in the domestic trade of Canada in similar proportion."

The newspaper said there was now agitation in favor of parliament fixing a new gold standard of "say, 14 grains or 15 grains of pure gold to the dollar."

The present statutory gold content of the dollar is 23.22 grains.

Shows Great Improvement

Bureau of Statistics Issues Annual Review Of Employment

Ottawa.—Reflecting a steady march of workers back into gainful employment after long or short periods of idleness, the Dominion bureau of statistics has issued its annual review of employment covering 1933. A distinct upward trend, starting about April 1, is shown in the figures which are based on the payroll reports of some 8,140 employers.

In all, 146,000 people were added to the number of wage-earners in Canada by these firms from April 1 to Dec. 1. During that period the index number of employment (based on 1926 at 100) jumped 15.3 points or 20.8 per cent from year's low of 76.0 to 91.8.

Payrolls were increased in the prairie provinces by 13,600 and in British Columbia by 13,900.

Informers Gets Prize

Toronto.—As a "common informer," Leslie Saunders, telephone employee, of Niagara Falls, was awarded an automobile won by William McIlwain, bank clerk, in a draw held at a service club carnival last July. Mr. Justice Charles Garrow, in Osgoode hall, made the award.

Will Eliminate Competition

Provinces Agree To Hold Fishing Seasons At Different Times

Winnipeg.—Agreements for elimination of competitive fishing seasons in the lakes of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta were tentatively arrived at, at the inter-provincial fisheries conference called by Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, minister of natural resources for Manitoba.

Instead of fishing seasons of the different provinces being held simultaneously, it was agreed they should be held as far as possible at different times so wasteful flooding of the market would be eliminated.

Cruising In Lifeboat

Norwegian Making Second Atlantic Crossing In Small Craft

Halifax.—Somewhere in mid-Atlantic a frail little shell of a boat is plowing along between Africa and South America. Aboard is Alfons Hansen, with his dog and cat. The navigator is heading for Rio de Janeiro from Sierra Leon, in Africa. A postcard to a friend here brought word of his latest venture. Their craft is a lifeboat decked over and equipped with sails. In it the strange trio has already crossed the Atlantic once from Hansen's native Norway to North America.

No Currency War Between U.S. and Britain

London.—A secret mission to London recently by a member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust" was reported here as the basis of an informal currency agreement which may hold the pound around a $5 ratio.

Americans in close touch with official circles in London heard various reports that a monetary expert of the United States government came here soon after the resignation of Oliver M. W. Sprague as financial executive assistant to the secretary of the treasury on November 21.

The expert was said to have had conferences with Bank of England officials and to have arrived at an understanding about methods by which London and Washington would be kept informed of each other's policy. No formal agreement was proposed or deemed necessary, out the basis of the understanding was believed to be to let market trends take their course, with exchange equalization funds used to iron out fluctuations in currencies.

Highest authorities meanwhile gave assurance that rumors of an Anglo-American currency war as the result of President Roosevelt's revaluation were without foundation. Officials of the treasury and Bank of England were silent on the matter.

Aviator's Strange Experience

Encountered Weather So Warm Grease Melted On Plane

Edmonton.—One more example of the almost unbelievable flying conditions pilots of the far north country must endure is cited by Pilot M. Leigh Brinnell, president of MacKenzie Air Services, on his return to the city after two flights into the Nahanni river country, northwest of Fort Simpson. On his second flight into the country, carrying a party of mining engineers, Brinnell took off from Simpson in weather nearly 70 below zero.

Garment Workers Strike

One Manufacturer In Toronto Says Demands Are Reasonable

Toronto.—More than 2,000 garment workers went on strike here, completely paralyzing the industry, with demands for higher wages and shorter hours which at least one manufacturer conceded were reasonable. But he said employers were unable to do anything without government intervention.

"The garment industry," declared S. Davies of the Davies Clark Co., "needs someone like Roosevelt to step in with his NRA, take control, put a stop to cut-throat competition, stipulate maximum working hours and see that the workers get a decent wage."

"The situation is so widespread that government intervention is the only thing that will be any use," he said. "All the charges that workers make are true."

Seed Grain Is Mixed

Poor Quality Being Used In Saskatchewan Drought Areas

Saskatoon.—Seed grain used in the areas of Saskatchewan that have had crop failures is now poorer and more mixed than at any time in the history of the province. F. W. Townley-Smith, president of the Saskatchewan branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' association, warned members of the provincial body in convention here.

A special committee of the association is working on a plan to add the grower of registered seed to sell his product, he announced.

Requests were explained that these demands of the wheat pool, which were asking for an export board to last for the term of the world wheat agreement.

He explained that if the Dominion government granted the marketing act, no provincial act could come in force in the province requiring that all producers must market any given commodity 100 per cent. co-operatively, unless a large majority of the producers of that commodity showed by vote that they were in favor of such legislation.

Dean A. M. Shaw discussed alternatives for marketing grain, the necessity for which is apparent because of the wheat agreement. He noted that climate was the deciding factor in production, and that huge areas of the west were adapted to grow nothing else but grain economically.

"It is not logical," said Dean Shaw, "to believe that the wheat situation lies, not in restrictive measures applied to grain production, but rather in the direction of a change in our methods of production and marketing in order that a great diversity of agricultural products suitable for export may be developed."

Districts where grass could be grown plentifully were the only ones where livestock enterprises could be undertaken with assurance of success, said Dean Shaw. The problem of the prairies was to find livestock that would eat cheap grain, utilize poor quality roughage such as straw, need little pasture and get along in some districts, on a minimum of water.

Poultry headed the list, in the dean's opinion, and this was followed with common beef cattle with a few hogs as a by-product for skim-milk. Sheep the dean placed at the bottom of the list.

Stratosphere Flights Planned

Two Announced By U.S. National Geographic Society

Washington.—Plans for two new stratosphere flights with the largest balloon ever constructed, designed to reach an altitude of 15 miles, have been announced by the National Geographic society and army air corps.

The two ascertained, scheduled for June and September, will seek to reach the greatest height to which it is practicable for a balloon to lift a man. The crew of the new stratosphere balloon will consist of Captain Albert W. Stevens, noted observer and photographer, of the air corps, and Major William Kepner, of the air corps, with First Lieutenant Orvil A. Anderson, air corps, as alternate.

General Currie's Horse Dies

Montreal.—Barely a month and a half after his master died, mourned by the multitude that knew him in war and peace, General Sir Arthur Currie's cherished charger—Brook—died unknown to anybody in his stall at Sir Arthur's brother's farm at Strathroy, Ont., it was learned here.

BANK CRASH CAUSES TROUBLE FOR FRENCH CABINET

Facing a chamber of angry deputies, Premier Chautemps was forced to defend his regime from corruption charges as a result of the gigantic Bayona Pawnshop swindle, while mobs rioted outside the Chamber in Paris. Boldly scoffing at the police assertion that Alexandre Stavisky, central figure in the bank crash, committed suicide, influential Parisian papers demand a full investigation of the case, known throughout France as "l'affaire Stavisky." Already one Cabinet Minister, Albert Dalimier, minister of colonies, has resigned over his connection with the case, and Joseph Gast, Bayona, is under arrest. What the French people want to know is how Stavisky, a native of Russia, known to the police as an inveterate swindler and forger, was allowed to operate for years, perpetrating frauds that will cause a loss of $51,000,000 to investors. High political influence is hinted and sensational disclosures predicted.
